Mt Hagen Trekking and Climbing

Mt Hagen is the third highest mountain in Papua New Guinea at 3790 metres or 12434 feet above sea level. Walking through the rainforest to the summit takes about 3 hours for seasoned trekkers and for amateurs; it can take up to 4 hours. A beautiful view from the summit overlooking Mt. Hagen and Nebilyer Valley is guaranteed and this should excite photographers and adventurers. Looking further north is Enga Province which can be viewed on the summit. There are small lakes and ponds around the top of the mountain. Strong wind blows around the summit and trekkers must take precaution in case they fall off the ridges.

The trek offers many beautiful and exotic orchids, extraordinary plants and flowers and insects. In this itinerary your trekking expeditions starts at Kumul Lodge Lodge.
